

INT. MIDAS HEALTH INSURANCE - 6TH FLOOR - DAY

Karen sits at her cubicle while Brianna pushes the mail cart down the hall. She stops at Karen's desk and pulls out a box of seaweed chips.

BRIANNA

Hey Karen, do you know anything about Project Foresight?

Karen turns, confused why the mail girl is talking to her.

KAREN

I've never heard of it. Why?

BRIANNA

No, just some lost mail. Something to do with Genetic Tree I think?

KAREN

Genetic Tree, like the company with the cheesy ads?

Brianna nods.

KAREN

Don't know anything about it. Sorry.

BRIANNA

No worries.

Brianna hands her the seaweed chips and starts to go.

KAREN

We did get those tests, what was it, 5 years ago, for Christmas?

Brianna turns back.

BRIANNA

What tests?

KAREN

You know, like the DNA ancestry tests? Not the best Christmas gift if you ask me. But apparently I'm 3% Japanese. It's how I got started on the seaweed chips.

To prove her point, she takes a chip from the already opened container on her desk.
